T-5 Fred S. Starnes, Hero of Five Invasion Battles Survives Great War to Tell Story Mass Surrender Of Germans; Fights From Casablanca to Rhine

Fred S. Stanes, Technician 5th Grade, United States Army, and veteran of the 82nd Airborne Division, is the hero of 5 invasion battles, two of which were airborne attacks.

T-5 Starnes in a letter to his sister, Mrs. Pauline S. Wiggs of Citizens National Bank, dated May 7, 1945, after he had witnessed the mass surrender of the German armies, remarks that it "has been a long, hard trip, from debarkation at Casablanca."

T-5 Starnes is very modest. The road he traveled is much longer. It began on his peaceful farm at Ben Arnold where he was making a home for his aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Starnes. He was then 38 and past the current draft take and besides was a deferred producer on the farm. He volunteered by surrendering his classification because he felt it was his duty to go. Within a few days after he stored his farm machinery he was in camp and in training.

In the course of events T-5 Starnes landed with the American army at Casablanca. It was something more than a 'debarkation' as he so modestly puts it. The Americns fought their way into North Africa and drove the Germans into the Mediterranean.

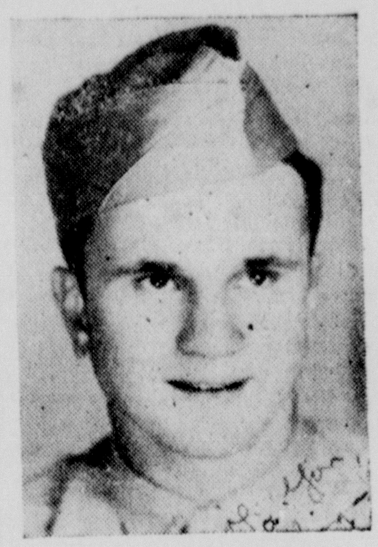
Is Liberated



SGT. ALEX LAZEK

Held Prisoner by Germans has been liberated.

SGT. ALEX LAZEK IS NOW REPORTED SAFE

Sgt. Alex Lazek, gunner and bombadier, Army Air Corps, who was held a prisoner by the Germans after his plane was lost while on a bombing mission over Germany in 1944, has been liberated.

Fred Lazek, Sr., father of the Airman, has received a telegram from the War Department announcing the liberation of his son.

There was an apparent error in the transmission of the messages. The telegram from General Ulio, Adjutant General, said Sgt. Lazek was liberated on May 14. Presumably this date may have been April 14. Later Mr. Lazek received a message stating that Sgt. Lazek had been restored to his own military authority on May 3.

The Air Medal was recently awarded to Sgt. Lazek at Bryan Air Field and received by his father, in the absence of the Airman who was a prisoner of the Germans.

Belief was expressed here that Sgt. Lazek was liberated by the Russians and later was restored to the American command.

WITNESS TO HIMMLER DEATH GIVES DETAIL

Lueneberg, Germany, May 23—He came into the room dressed in an army shirt, a pair of underpants and with a blanket wrapped around him.

I immediately recognized him as Himmler.

Speaking to him in German, I pointed to an empty couch and said: "That's your bed. Get onto it!"

He looked at me and then at an interpreter and said, "He doesn't know who I am."

I said, "Yes, I do. You are Himmler. But that still is your bed. Get undressed."

He tried to stare me out, but I stared at him and eventually he dropped his eyes and started to take off his underpants to got to bed.

A doctor and a colonel then came into the room and started to carry out a routine inspection looking for the poison which we suspected he had on him.

We looked between his clothes, all over the body, under his arms, in his ears, behind his ears and in his hair.

At last, we asked Himmler to open his mouth. He opened his mouth and rolled his tongue around his teeth.

The doctor wasn't satisfied. He asked him to come near to the light and open his mouth.

The doctor put two fingers in his mouth and took a good look inside.

Then Himmler clamped down his jaws on the doctor's fingers and crushed a phial which he had held in his mouth for hours.

The colonel and I instinctively jumped to him. The doctor hauled him onto the sofa and tried to make him spit out the poison. The colonel and I held him.

After efforts lasting a quarter of an hour during which we tried all methods of artificial respiration, he died.

We threw a blanket over him.

U S NAVAL POWER MOVES IN ON JAPAN

Concentration of Naval Power off Northern Japan Monday was reported in Jap broadcasts but there was no confirmation from any allied source.

It was believed sufficient time may have lapsed between blows and an invasion of the main land may be in the making.

There were signs the Japs are breaking up on Okinawa and the battle there may be in its final stages.

On Mindanao the forces under Gen. MacArthur have taken 550 Jap prisoners in the past few days. This is an unusual number and was taken to indicate the Japs are beginning to realize the war is lost.

Fighting has broken out in Syria where the French are engaging Syrian revolters. The trouble has been brewing for some time.

HOT LUNCHES SERVED TO 3000 CHILDREN

Milam County schools reached a new high this year in the community school lunch program, Chas. M. Hicks county superintendent of schools, has announced.

According to latest reports 7 independent and 26 common schools have been serving adequate noon-day lunches daily to about 3,000 school children. Without the help of War Food Administration, many of these lunchrooms could not have operated this year, Hicks said. Credit for much of this year's success also must go to sponsors who have worked untiringly in seeing that school children were served well-balanced meals.

School lunch agreements are signed jointly by WFA and local sponsors who assume complete responsibility for keeping lunchrooms in operation. WFA's part is to help local sponsors operate the program efficiently reimburse them for part of the operating cost and distribute perishable foods bought from farmers under price support program as directed by the Congress.

Reimbursement from WFA this year total about $26,909.00, compared to $26,970.00 received from local sources. This plan of sharing expenses has made it possible to serve well-balanced, healthful foods to school children for an average cost to each child of only 15 cents per meal, re explained. No discrimination is made between children who are able to pay for their lunches and those who cannot since one of the purposes of the school lunch program is to provide healtful mid-day lunches to all children, he continued.

WE LOSE 19 SUPERFORTS IN NIGHT ATTACK FRIDAY

The Japs said early Saturday that their Capital, world's third largest city, has been burned to the ground.

The palace of the Empress and the Imperial University, were destroyed in a night attack by formations of giant B-29 bombers.

We lost 19 of the Superforts in the attack on Tokyo.

So far there has been no official Allied statement on the success of the attack but the Japs were sqealing like rats and chattering away to say their capital is destroyed.

The Japs lost 111 planes in a night attack but damaged 11 American war ships. Suicide bombers are landing on Okinawa to take a heavy damage toll. Thus far 9602 Americans have been killed on Okinawa and at the same time 48 thousand Japs have been slain.

The new Churchill cabinet of Prime Minister Churchill will face the House of Commons Tuesday.

Mrs. Walter Wallace of Cameron spent the week end in Houtson with her husband.

Mrs. Ernest Lorenz of Ben Arnold was in Cameron Saturday.

AMERICANS MOPPING UP JAPANESE ON MINDANAO

Three American divisions joined in North Central Mindanao Wedesday, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today, splitting in two the remnants of the Japanese garrison on the big Philippine island.

Heavy rains hampered the American drive on Southern Okinawa, but on the west flank the Sixth Marine division built two bridges over the Asato river under fire and put units across the stream, while on the east flank the Seventh Infantry division made important advances against stiff opposition.

Japanese Premier Kantaro Suzuki in Tokyo noted the critical situation of the Japanese on Okinawa, and demanded that Nipponese warplane builders redouble their production efforts.

The ruins of war plants and rail freight yards in the Shinagawa industrial area of Tokyo still were smouldering from the 4,500-ton firebomb deluge unloosed by more than 550 Superforts in a predawn raid Thursday.

The Japanese showed offensive action with the Tuesday landing of reinforcements from warecraft on the east coast of China, 30 miles northeast of the recently liberated port Foochow, where the Nipponese fear American forces may land.

In the Philippine theatre MacArthur said the "Mindanao compaign has reached the mopping-up stage" with the juncture above Malaybalay of Eight army 40th and American divisions, driving from the north, and the 31st division, which pushed up from the south. The meeting clinched the American hold on the island's vital central road network.

Himmler is Buried In Unmarked Grave

The body of Heinrich Himmler, Europe's butcher, who cheated the United Nations out of execution as a war criminal, was buried Friday in an unmarked grave.

Himmler's body, wrapped in a blanket and carried in a truck was taken to a secret, unmarked grave by unknown American soldiers and buried.

at Salerno where the immortal Texans of the 36th Division made history. In the bloody Italian campaign he fought with the Americans all the way up to Naples.

The famous 82nd Airborne Division was formed in North Africa in April 1943. This division was the parent of the Famous 101st Airborne that made history at Bastogne. After the fighting in Italy T-5 Starnes came back to England and his next invasion was on June 6, 1944, in the greatest assault from the sea in history, the landing on Normandy. After the European invasion which began on D-Day he later returned to England where he prepared for the famous invasion of Holland by air, but not until he had engaged in another operation which blocked the Germans after their break through in Belgium in December 1944. In January 1945, published account of the action by the 82nd Division said: "When word got back two days after the German break through into Belgium that the 82nd Airborne Division was moving up into the line to help contain the Nazi threat to the north, you could hear the sighs of relief all the way up to Liege."

Perhaps the most colorful and no doubt the most successfully effective action ever taken by an airborne division came in Holland. The 82nd of which T-5 Starnes, was a member, flew out of England on September 17, 1944, and dropped out of the peaceful Sunday afternoon skies to begin their famous battle which finally resulted in the liberation of the Dutch country and the capture of the vital Nijmegen bridge across the Waal River which was one of the main objectives of the Dutch invasion. The story of the 82nd Division's Holland campaign is well told in a special issue of a newspaper called the "All American Paraglide," issued at Nijmegen on October 17, 1944, which may be the only number ever issued of this paper for it was printed by the Dutch by the Gelderlander Press in Nijmegen, and distributed as souvenirs to the troops. T-5 Starnes sent home one of these now historic papers. The paper was mailed to his parents at Ben Arnold.

T-5 Starnes, now 41, will be coming home soon. He is Milam county's most heroic soldier of invasions. He has five to his credit, something of a record and his home folks here in Cameron and Ben Arnold are looking forward to the day when they can pay him suitable tribute.

The record is not clear on the invasion of Southern France where Star... may have also seen action. During most of his European action T-5 Starnes was under the overall command of General Courtney Hodges' First American Army. Recently while on a 10 day leave he was photographed in Brussells, Belgium. He wears four stars for four major campaigns, the Glider Decoration campaigns. the Glider Decoration and minous.

T-5 Fred S. Starnes, in a letter to his sister, Mrs. Pauline Starnes Wiggs at Citizens National Bank, tells of German atrocities. He witnessed the mass surrender of German forces. The letter which was dated May 7, 1945, the day before fighting officially ceased, is in part as follows:

"I haven't written anyone as I've been quite busy. You have heard all the news from here, and it was something. I've seen some big things, but this was the greatest of all. I witnessed the mass surrender of German armed forces, and you can imagine how I felt, and what it meant to me and millions of others. Only if it could have happened sooner. Nazi atrocities. Well, I've seen it now. Yesterday I visited a concentration camp, and don't ask me to fully describe it because I can't and no one one else can. There is not words with meaning that could. The dead piled in heaps, starved, and beaten to death, and hundreds buried in shallow graves. It is beyond exageration and everyone can be sure that it is true, and there is nothing misrepresented by anyone or any written article. If anyone there has the chance to see a movie of it, don't miss it but be sure to stay and see it through. Any living human could not get a greater shock than to see one of these places. And I saw it and I know. I've been away now for a long time. Its been a long hard trip from debarkation at Casablanca and time and dates have just run together and so much is forgotten and so much remembered. It would be a great feeling now to relax and let a very touchy nerve rest for just a while. And to see everyone at home again. Received mail three days ago. Got five letters and a Cameron Herald. Am hoping to get more today."

T-5 Starnes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Starnes of Ben Arnold. He is the only son of the family. Three sisters are: Mrs. Pauline S. Wiggs of Cameron, Miss Irene Starnes of Goose Creek and Mrs. E. L. Bell of Velesco, Texas.

Sgt. L. D. Hill who recently returned from the China-Burma-India theatre of war is visiting his mother, Mrs. Mabel McCrummens of Buckholts.

DENKER-ORSAG

Miss Mildred Denker became the bride of LeRoy Orsag Sunday afternoon, May 26th at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Judge and Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp, Judge Kemp reading the marriage vows.

The bride was attractively dressed in a white bridal gown with veil, and carried a bouquet of spring flowers. They were attended by Miss Joyce Rosenberg and E. J. Provasek. Miss Roseberg was attired in a blue formal net dress.

Mr. and Mrs. Orsag are from near Splawn and will make their home there.

The Kemp home was beautifully decorated with gardinas, in vases and bowls resting at points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Clark had as week end guests in their home the following relatives, a grand son, Charles Shannon and wife and son, who is a great grand son of La Ferra; and Mrs. and Mrs. Leverette Fitzpatrick and their son who is now in service, but home on a few days visit, from Dallas. Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion,* thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

HIMMLER TAKES CYANIDE ENDING LIFE WEDNESDAY

Heinrich Himmler, the most deadly Nazi of the lot committed suicide by biting into a container of potassium cynide at Lueneberg, Germany, three days after being captured masquerading as a civilian, it was announced officially Thursday night.

The merciless leader of the SS and the Gestapo, upon whose orders perhaps millions of persons were put to death duringNazi reign, died at 11:04 Wednesday night, 25 minutes after swallowing the poison, which he apparently had held in his mouth from the time of his capture.

The No. 1 Nazi war criminal—granting the death of Hitler—for whom an intensive search had been conduced for weeks, was picked up by British soldiers in a routine check of pedestrians crossing a bridge at Bremervoerde, west of Hamburg. He wore a black patch over one eye, and had shaved off his mustache.

From the time of his capture until his death Himmler underwent several rigorous examinations, being stripped and carefully searched, without detecting the poison vial. Wednesday night, as a doctor probed into his mouth, the Gestapo leader suddenly shook his head, swallowed and fell unconscious. Efforts to revive him so he could face Allied justice were unsuccessful.

With Himmler's death there apparently remained only Joachim von Ribbentrop, the only Joachim vrdluwyp bentroy, the only oily foreign minister, to be accounted for of the top Nazi leaders. Like Himmler, Hitler and Goebbels presumably were suicides, and Goering was in Allied hands. Allied headquarters confirmed that Admiral George von Fredeberg, commander in chief of the German navy, killed himself Wednesday at Flensburg.
